

“Anybody who thinks America’s running out of energy needs to come see us here in Garyville, Louisiana.”

—Kim Odell
Advanced Senior Refining Engineer

Right now, we’re making one of the most efficient refineries in the country even better. With a $3.2 billion investment, we’re expanding the capacity of our Garyville refinery by 180,000 barrels a day. Doing it right too. With the newest, cleanest, safest technology available.

So that by 2010, America will have another 7½ million gallons of clean transportation fuels every day: that’s 182 million fill-ups every year. Fuels we need to get to work, run our businesses, power our economy. Stepping up. That’s Marathon.
